Dave Watson and The Wetz Family of Dayton

Written by Angie Hoschouer

About a month ago I shared with you the story of Dave Watson and the "work" he does at Woodland cleaning headstones. I have a follow up to that story and the continued work that Dave has done on the Wetz Family headstones in Section 69 Lot 434. lot.

"Dear Angie,

I have finished the cleaning of Webster B. Wetz, the third of four members of the Wetz family at rest in Woodland Cemetery. He is all cleaned up now. I have researched his family and it is included in this message.

Dave"

Webster B. Wetz was born to Charles H. and Carrie E. Wetz in Dayton in 1888. He lived with his family at 1104 Wayne Avenue. In 1900 Willie, the younger brother of Webster, died at the home from "brain fever" and the family soon moved to 31 S. Bosler Street in Dayton which no longer exists.

In 1906 when Webster was 18 years old he became a toolmaker at NCR where his father Charles also worked. By 1909 Webster had married Helen L. Clark which allowed Charles and Carrie to purchase a smaller home at 701 Alberta Street while the newlyweds, Webster and Helen moved to their own place at 1244 Home Avenue. Webster secured employment with The Light Company and held positions as a meter reader and electrician.

Sometime after 1912, Webster contracted tuberculosis and it must have affected him enough that he and his wife Helen necessitated a move to the 701 Alberta Street residence to be cared for and supported by his father Charles. Webster suffered with tuberculosis for two years and succumbed to that illness on May 15, 1914. Webster was just 26 years old.

Webster's surviving wife Helen must have moved home with her parents, and a few years later, she met and married a steel and brass worker, Albert Hays Miller, and became his wife until Albert's death in 1962. Helen Clark Miller died in 1949 as did Albert at their residence at 841 Harvard Boulevard in Dayton. Both of the Millers are at rest in Woodland Cemetery.

Charles and Carrie Wetz both lived at 701 Alberta Street until they died in 1938 and 1924 respectively. Charles and Carrie rest alongside their two sons and an infant that died in 1894.

Dave ended his message to me with this, "Everyone has a story. Some have quite a story. Some are known but to God. Continue to Rest in Peace Webster B. Wetz."

Here is the original story of Dave's headstone cleaning of the Wetz Family lot in case you missed it the first time around.

As the Development and Marketing Manager at Woodland, I encounter a great many people during programs, presentations, tours and events at Woodland and in the community. All have questions about Woodland and its history and are happy when I tell them stories of the residents who rest in peace.

I met Dave Watson in 2019 during the first year that Woodland offered a Headstone Cleaning Class. Dave was one of those shy guys who sat back and listened, and took in all of the information that was offered. He participated in cleaning headstones with the class. He didn't rush. He followed the necessary steps to remove all of the lichen and moss and other growth on the long forgotten grave markers.

Winter came and a quiet peace fell over the cemetery. By March 2020, the world was beginning to shut down due to Covid-19 and all of the cemetery's plans for an event and tour season vanished. We encouraged people to come and visit the cemetery using our 200+ acres as a way to socially distance themselves from others yet get out in the sun and fresh air and enjoy the peaceful surroundings of Woodland.

I would often take advantage of this during my workday and go out for a brief walk or drive e through the cemetery. On several occasions I would encounter Dave sitting on the grass in front of a family of headstones and he would be scraping and brushing off settled dirt and biological growth and then washing and rinsing the stones with the utmost of care.

I would stop and chat with him for a few moments and he would show me his work and the new picks and scrapers he had found that worked well on some of the intricate stone carvings and lettering. He would then tell me what he knew of the family he was working on and by the time he was done cleaning the husband and wife and sometimes their children's headstones, he could tell you their whole family history. See, Dave just doesn't come and clean a headstone and leave, he finds out who the people are and what their story is. He gets to know the people.

In September 2021, Woodland offered another Headstone Cleaning Class and Dave signed up to take it. I asked him why he wanted to take it again and he said he just wanted to make sure he was doing everything properly and wanted to spend more time learning about resetting loose stones. Once again, Dave was very attentive in class and when the class was set loose to clean stones, Dave chose a small family plot with four headstones.

In a recent Facebook story, Dave posted a before and after photo and a brief bio on the patriarch of the family. I asked him why he bothers to look up the story of the people he has cleaned their stone for and he responded, "Everyone has a story, some well-known, some known only to God."

"Charles H. Wetz, the father of Webster and Willie, and the husband of Carrie, was who I cleaned and brought back from obscurity," said Dave. "Mr. Wetz was actually born in 1857 but never had a birth certificate, and was able to have one verified from his parents listing him as born in Dayton, Ohio, as a young man, and records showed this the rest of his life. Charles was an assembler of machinery at NCR, but was more known to friends and other Daytonians as the organist at Christ Episcopal Church for over 25 years. He also was a music teacher and well known for the many students he taught to play that musical instrument. His life centered around his two sons, both of whom he survived, as well as his wife, and he spent the last 14 years of his life with his niece at his residence listed at 701 Alberta Street."

Charles died on July 18, 1938 at the age of 80 at his home from arteriosclerosis, as indicated on his death certificate. He is located with his wife Carrie, an infant child, and two sons Webster B. and William J. in Section 69 Lot 434.

THANK YOU for supporting us through our 180th Anniversary!

We hope you will continue to support the Woodland Arboretum Foundation as we move through 2022. Support of the Chapel restoration and preservation project is our most critical need as you will soon see the outside of the Chapel and Administration Building receiving new sandstone pieces and eroding and disintegrating elements replaced. Once the stonework is complete, the beloved Tiffany windows will return and be put back in place. The Tiffany mosaic floor will be restored and the beautiful interior woodwork will also receive a facelift. We are hopeful to open the doors to the public once again in late 2022.

Please consider making a first time donation or an annual donation to the Chapel Fund. Donate on our secure website by clicking below or click on the check to receive a donation form to mail in.
